TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Millmen Instantly Swept Off the Earth.

BATTERY CAISSON SET ON FIRE.

Three Men Killed and a Score of Other Persons Injured, Several of Them Fatally—A Number of Houses Badly Damaged—Names of the Dead and Injured. How the Accident Occurred.

CHICAGO, July 17.—A caisson of Battery F, Second artillery, U. S. A., exploded with terrible force shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Grand and Oakwood boulevards. Two artillery men and one trooper were instantly killed. Nearly a score of other persons, troops, residents in the vicinity and passersby were injured, some of them fatally. The list of the killed and wounded is as follows:

The killed are:

J. Donnevan, private, Battery F, Second artillery.

Edward Doyle, private, Battery F, Second artillery.

Joseph Gaylor, farrier, Troop B, Seventh cavalry.

The wounded are:

Sergeant Leiner, Battery F, Second artillery, badly shot through the body; severely burned with powder about the face and head; recovery doubtful.

Fred Stoltz, private, Second artillery, was badly burned and wounded about the legs, and died a few hours after being taken to the hospital.

John Allen, private, Second artillery, shot in head and neck; fatally injured.

Maurice O'Donnell, private, Second artillery, shot in the head and powder-burned; may recover.

C. Encke, driver in rear, private, Second artillery, blown from his horse and badly injured; will recover.

John Urquhart, private, Second artillery, ball of left foot crushed by a bullet; not serious.

Herbert Autes, bugler, Troop B, Seventh cavalry, shot in shoulder and leg and arms; will recover.

Sergeant Anthony Kane, Troop E, Seventh cavalry; ear shot off.

Sergeant George Hoffman, Troop B, Seventh cavalry; shot in chin.

Corporal Abraham Riley, Battery F, Second artillery; thrown to the ground and badly bruised.

Sergeant King, Battery F, Second artillery, thrown from horse and badly bruised.

Unknown artilleryman, thrown from horse, picked up unconscious; injuries slight.

Unknown boy, thrown from bicycle, injured about the legs.

Miss Alice York, 4103 Grand boulevard, tendon of heel severed by bullet.

Mrs. E. C. Hulding, 3930 Grand boulevard, severely cut and injured in her home by falling glass.

The troops left Brighton park for a long march around the city to exercise the horses. They were in command of Captain Dodd of Troop F, Third cavalry, and consisted of Troop F, Third cavalry, 40 men; Troop E, Sixth cavalry, Lieutenant Tate, 40 men; platoon of Battery F, Second artillery, two guns; Lieutenant Gayle, 23 men; Troop B, Seventh cavalry, Captain Varnum, 40 men.

The men marched in this order. Everything went smoothly and there were no incidents until the column marching south on Grand boulevard was just crossing Oakwood boulevard. Then a terrific explosion occurred. The men on the caisson, supposed to be Donovan and Doyle, were literally blown to pieces, and the others were thrown many feet by the violence of the concussion. Four of the horses drawing the caisson fell in their tracks shot through and horribly mangled, while the others were blown 50 feet ahead against the trees on the boulevard, dying instantly. The caisson was blown to atoms, not a piece of it larger than a man's hand being found. The boulevard looked like a battlefield.

There was a quick series of explosions after the first report and Shrapnel shot rained like hail among the trees on the boulevard and pierced the surrounding dwellings. The concussion broke every window in the houses for blocks away. The walls and roofs of the dwelling, showed the terrific effect of the missiles. Unexploded shells of the rear part of the caisson lay strewn over the ground.

With the explosion came great confusion of the troops, and for a moment the men and officers seemed powerless to move. To this was added the fright of the occupants of the surrounding houses, who ran screaming from their dwellings only to be sickened by the sight in the street.

A still alarm of fire had been turned in, and with the fire department came the stocky, da police patrol wagon. The wagon was sent back to the station and it returned with 25 men under command of Lieutenant Morrissey. He then telephoned to Hyde Park for reinforcements and soon Captain Dillard arrived with 25 more men. Later, Inspectors Hunt and Fitzpatrick and Lieutenant Benfield arrived.

It was some little time before the two dead artillery men could be found. One of them mangled beyond recognition, but supposed to be Doyle, had been blown over a board sign, 25 feet high, and was found in a vacant lot behind it. One leg and an arm were gone. The other man, supposed to be Donovan, had been thrown about 300 feet diagonally to the right and was found in a vacant lot near the Lake Shore tracks. Joseph Gaylor was found near where he was struck.

Great damage was wrought by the explosion to neighboring property. Windows in most of the surrounding houses were blown out, and the damage to residence and park property in the neighborhood of the accident is estimated at $40,000. The house of E. C. Huehling was damaged to the extent of about $1,000, most of the windows being demolished. One of the shells struck the roof of the house and tore away part of the roof. Another shell struck between one of the bay windows and the wall of Mr. Huehling's house and stuck in this position.

P. R. Cusler of 3928 Grand boulevard lives directly opposite where the accident occurred, and sustained a loss of about $1,500. A large piece of one of the wheels of the gun carriage was carried through his sittingroom window, and carried away a large lamp which stood in the window.

The house of Samuel B. Foster, attorney for the Grand Trunk road, suffered a loss of about $1,000, having every window in the house shot away and the blinds of the front windows torn to pieces.

At the home of Maurice G. Dodge, at 3925 Grand boulevard, the loss was about $700, mostly in plate-glass windows and woodwork around the rooms.

The house of F. H. Howe, at 3931 Grand boulevard, was one of the buildings mostly damaged. His loss is estimated at $4,000.

The house of A. Devlin, at 3933 Grand boulevard, was damaged about $1,000. One of the iron shells struck the balcony rail and lodged there. All the windows were blown out, and the glass scattered around the rooms, together with pieces of the gun carriage and surrounding streets.

General Miles directed Captain Michler and Colonel Williston of the commissary department and a former commander of the battery to go to the scene of the accident and secure a report of the affair. On the return of Colonel Williston, he gave the following verbal account of the accident preparatory to writing his report:

"The command under the escort of the cavalry was taking its daily march exercise. The caisson consists of a limber, on which is a chest, and the carriage containing two chests more of ammunition, making three chests on the caisson. The explosion occurred in the chest of the limber and the force of the explosion was to the rear, tearing away the caisson and igniting the powder in the other two chests. The first caisson carried 42 Shrapnel and 44 cartridges. The Shrapnel are loaded with percussion shell, containing fulminates and small balls, and are fired from the caisson by a cartridge containing, as in this case, 3-4 pounds of powder.

"My theory of the accident is that the screw plug at the base of the Shrapnel became loosened, some of the powder leaked out and being ground and powdered by the jolting of the limber, ignited the powder in the cartridges exploded, and the ignition of the cartridges in the other two chests followed. In the second chest on the caisson were 26 tin shells, 16 Shrapnel and their complement of 44 cartridges; in the third and rear chest were 42 shells and 44 cartridges. The force of the explosion can be more readily understood, when it is remembered that the 132 cartridges contained 495 pounds of powder.

"The men who were in the detachment said that they recognized two distinct reports seemingly almost simultaneous. This was the limber chest followed almost in the instant by the other two chests. The rattle of explosions that followed the great detonation was the bursting of the Shrapnel as they struck the ground. The men on the caisson were lifted by the explosion while the horses were killed by the missiles from the Shrapnel. All of the 42 Shrapnel in the limber chest exploded while four of the 16 in the second chest were found unexploded. None of the shells exploded. They do not contain any fulminates and are fired by a time fuse.

"I take no stock in the theory that dynamite had anything to do with it. The greatest caution is always taken about ammunitions. Each chest is locked by a Yale lock specially made for the government. There are no keys in any battery that will unlock any but the chest to which it belongs, and I do not believe that there is a key in Chicago that will unlock any of our artillery chests. The ammunition is most carefully packed under the supervision of an officer. Every day it is examined. This caisson was inspected last evening. All the Shrapnel were looked after and the screw plugs examined and tightened.

"I have no recollection of a similar accident in the United States artillery, and it is on record so far as I can learn. The guns were the new rifled field pieces recently introduced into the service, and have never seen active duty. The ammunition is a couple of months old, and has been jolted over the rough roads in Kansas, and yet when going at a light trot on the smoothest road in Chicago the explosion took place."

Catholic Summer Schools.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., July 17.—The business of the third annual session of the Catholic summer school and which was formally opened Sunday by Mgr. Satolli commenced in earnest Monday with an extremely large attendance. The lectures of that day included several of the most learned priests of this state, also Professor James Hall, theologian, Dr. J. K. Forum of Montreal, and W. C. Robinson of Yale.

Negro Lynched.

SCOTTSVILLE, Ky., July 17.—Marion Howard, colored, was taken from the courthouse here Monday by a mob and hanged to a tree in the courthouse yard. Howard was being tried on the charge of raping little 10-year-old Beulah Davidson. He was captured Sunday afternoon and jailed here. Howard was married, 34 years old, but bore a bad character. The mob was orderly but determined.

RIOTS IN CALIFORNIA.

Strike Trouble Not Yet Settled Out There.

THE MILITARY STILL ON DUTY.

Passenger Trains Being Moved by Force, but Little Work Is Being Done in the Freight Business—Dobs and Other Strike Leaders to Be Arrested Again—General Strike News.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The Southern Pacific Railway company, backed by the combined military forces of the federal and state governments, continues to maintain a fairly satisfactory passenger service in northern California. But notwithstanding this formidable military array, the railroad officials have been unable to retrieve the lost management of their freight business. The passenger service, too, is by no means restored, for trains are still sidetracked at night time as a precautionary measure against train wrecks.

In Oakland yesterday the strikers formed into several riotous mobs of 200 or 300 men each. All incoming and outgoing passenger trains were so strongly garrisoned that they were not interfered with, but the fury of these mobs fell upon such lawless nonunion men as the strikers were able to waylay going to and from work. Several times the troops were called out to disperse the rioters and rescue nonunion men.

Shortly after noon a freight train was started from the yards on the mole. At the Seventh street crossing, the nonunion men in charge of the train found themselves at the mercy of a mob of strikers. A striker had managed to climb aboard and cut the airbrakes. The train was stalled and the rioters, who were soon swarming about, had drawn all the coupling pins. Then a troop of cavalry and a company of infantry came down upon the mob.

The cavalry men used their sabres and clubbed with their pistols, and the foot soldiers prodded freely with their bayonets. In the struggle two shots were fired by the soldiers, though no one was hit. The strikers were finally put to flight. A number of the rioters sought refuge in the cottage of a striker. The soldiers followed, raided the house and arrested 21 men. Several of the rioters were severely cut and bruised. The freight train was run to a sidetrack and abandoned.

After this occurrence, the soldiers going on trains as guards were given positive orders to shoot anyone who attempted to interfere with any train. Finally a freight train was sent guarded by about 600 militia.

Out of Sacramento, trains are running with less interference. Several freight trains have been dispatched from that point. The railway company announces that several fruit trains will soon be dispatched from Sacramento. Owing to the recent burning of a trestle on the Siskyou region, no trains have been sent out on the Ogden branch. A train will probably be dispatched for Portland today.

Passenger trains from the east are now arriving in San Francisco. Eight days earlier mail was received here yesterday.

The Southern Pacific officials claim that many of the strikers are applying to be taken back, and say employment will be given to all but those most active in organizing the strike.

At Sacramento several hundred men returned to work in the railroad shops yesterday. They were compelled to sign an agreement to withdraw from the American Railway union.

There was considerable excitement at Dunsunir yesterday afternoon.

Captain Paulson, commanding a Stockton militia company that was serving as guard on a passenger train, arrested a citizen who crossed the tracks and approached the train. The captain flourished a revolver and arrested him. At Dunsunir the sympathy is largely with the strikers, and Captain Paulson was promptly arrested by the civil authorities.

Debs to Be Arrested.

CHICAGO, July 17.—District Attorney Milchrist has prepared an information which will be filed in the United States circuit court charging Debs and the other officers of the American Railway union with contempt of court. Debs, Howard, Rogers and Kelcher will be named as having violated the injunction of the court. Judge Seaman will summon the defendants to appear in court at once and a rule will be entered commanding them to show cause why they should not be punished.

District Attorney Milchrist said that the court will probably make the rule retroactive at some future day, when the matter can be heard by Judges Grosscup and Woods who issued the injunction. In the meantime the accused may be admitted to bail. The information will contain the alleged acts on which the charge of contempt is based, copies of telegraphic and other orders sent to the headquarters of the strike, directing men to leave the work, will be filed with it.

Mr. Milchrist said the court can commit the leaders to jail without bail, and with no hope of release from habeas corpus proceedings, so large is the power conferred upon the federal judges under the law. There is no law limiting the duration of the confinement.

CHICAGO, July 17.—No serious trouble has occurred in the railroad strike. Trains are being moved as usual, but the state and federal troops are still on duty.

Advices are about as above from all the previously disturbed districts, except California, where several small riots occurred.

THEIR PARENTS' ASHES.

A Jewish Church Law Overridden by the State.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—The right of Jacob and Henry Herman to remove the bodies of their parents from the cemetery of the Shearith Israel congregation has been sustained in a decree signed by Judge Dennis. The Hermans' parents were members of the Shearith Israel congregation of orthodox Hebrews. They were buried in the cemetery of the congregation to which they belonged. Recently their children, Jacob and Henry Herman, wished to remove their bodies to the cemetery of the Baltimore Hebrew congregation, of which the sons are members.

They asked permission for the disinterment from the officers of the Shearith Israel congregation, but their request was refused on the ground that such removal would be a violation of the Jewish faith. Suit was brought by the Hermans, and in the trial of it a number of rabbis testified. Rev. Drs. Szold, Hochheimer, Schneberger, Hirsch of Chicago and Sale of St. Louis testified in behalf of the Messrs. Herman and Rev. Drs. Klein, Joseph Shaffer and Mendez of New York in behalf of the congregation. The court took the view that the right of removal was governed by the law of Maryland and not by ecclesiastical canon and decided in favor of the Herman brothers.

STRIPPED BY ROBBERS.

Hard Luck of Thirteen Union Men En Route to Clinchmail.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., July 17.—Thirteen men, victims of train robbers, are now at Homewood, six miles from this place, with nothing left them to wear except their shoes and underclothing.

Saturday night they were all riding in a boxcar on the Ft. Wayne road. While passing Geneva station, five armed men forced an entrance to the car, and, under threat of death, compelled the men to strip off their clothing. The robbers then threw out the clothing and jumped from the train.

The victims claim to be union men en route to Cincinnati, where they had secured employment. Each man had a little money in addition to all their clothing, and lost about $100 in cash.

TRAIN WRECKER CONFESSIONS.

He Implicates Several Others, but Claims It Does Not Know Them.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 17.—Edward Holloway, the prisoner under arrest here for wrecking the express train at Fontenay Thursday night, resulting in the death of Engineer Moehrmann and Fireman Fleck, made a clean breast of the whole affair. He says that there were seven or eight others in it besides himself. They were all miners. He does not know them.

They broke the switchlock with a hammer and threw the switch an inch or two. When they saw the through passenger train tearing down the gulley at the rate of 40 miles an hour one of the men said: "Well, it doesn't make a d—n bit of difference if a couple of them are killed."

Hanged by a Mob.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., July 17.—A party of masked men went to Edwin Traubhaar's home, one mile south of Adairville, and after calling him out, tied his hands and feet and carried him several miles distant to a dense thicket and hung him. Traubhaar has always borne a bad reputation in that community. Several weeks ago he was accused of poisoning his father's family, which came near resulting in three deaths. Excitement is at fever heat in that community.

Christian Endeavor.

CLEVELAND, July 17.—The thirteenth annual convention of the Christian Endeavor society has closed. The total registration reached 40,000, of which 18,790 came from points outside of Ohio. Among the movements started at the gathering are plans for a world-wide union of Christian Endeavor, and for systematic missionary extension.

One Boy Brains Another.

MIDDLETON, O., July 17.—William Deihl is in jail here awaiting the result of injuries he inflicted on William Butterfield, Saturday afternoon, at the Y. M. C. A. grounds. Deihl struck Butterfield over the head with a stone, seriously fracturing his skull. They are both boys. The fight was over some lemonade.

Water Famine Threatened.

WINFIELD, W. Va., July 17.—The water in the Kanawha river here is black, caused by the burning of the extract and dye works at Charleston. Owing to pool water it required several days for the polluted water to reach here. If it does not pass out in a few days a water famine will ensue.

Attempted to Mob a Freight Crew.

POMEROY, O., July 17.—A lot of strikers attempted to mob a nonunion freight crew at Middleport yesterday evening with the result that the sheriff and his deputies were called on to rescue the train. Bert Dunn was arrested and jailed. More trouble is feared.

Young Man Mangled.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 17.—Thomas Richards, a young iron worker, while beating his way on an Erie train, fell through a gondola car and was killed, his remains being scattered along the track. He was the only support of a widowed mother residing here.

The editor of the Ledger is still playing the people for a lot of chumps.

Debs is an atheist and a fast friend of Ingersoll, the infidel. This country has no use for either of them.

UNDER the new system inaugurated by the Democrats of Illinois, the people will practically choose their United States Senators.

A YEAR ago Mr. Debs and his A. R. U. protested vehemently against the compulsory arbitration bill then pending in Congress. Now it's arbitration they are after, judging by their talk since Uncle Sam's soldiers were called out to suppress their lawless elements. Time works many changes.

AFTER two months deliberation the New York Constitutional convention has accomplished nothing, absolutely nothing. Absenteeism and dilatory methods are the explanation. The convention is overwhelmingly Republican, which may account for its do-nothing policy.

THE New York World sent telegrams to the Governors of the several States asking their views of the President's action in sending federal troops to Chicago. In response they all endorsed his course, excepting Governors Waite and Altgeld. Altgeld and Waite should go off to some South Sea Island and get up of little government of their own.

IT is due to Mayor Hopkins of Chicago to say that he denies the Cincinnati Post's story printed on our first page, and that General Miles sustains him in at least a portion of the denial;—which is proof positive that even the sympathizers with Anarchists do not at all times tell the truth about them.—Public Ledger.

Why did you publish the stuff when you knew it had been denied? Inasmuch as you published it why did you not give Gen. Miles' letter also? Any fair-minded, honest person would have done so.

REV. MYRON REED, of Denver, has been on a toboggan slide recently. Not long since he was a minister of much influence for good. But he entered politics and adopted the Populist faith; afterwards he was deposed from his pastorate for encouraging lawlessness during the Cripple Creek insurrection, and now he appears before a so-called labor meeting openly advocating anarchy, declaring himself an anarchist.

RELIGIOUS FANATICISM.

Sensible Words From the Editor of the Lexington Gazette on the Subject.

[Lexington Gazette.]

Science and the spirit of the age are opposed to religious fanaticism. We might as well talk of re-establishing the Spanish Inquisition as advocate the proscription of men for their religious convictions. If common sense and common honesty do not secure freedom of religious opinion, the laws of the land do and that settles it so far as this country is concerned. After the lapse of four centuries during which the history of Europe is disfigured by religious wars and persecutions, these have been relegated to the past as surely as human sacrifices and gladiatorial games, and those who attempt to stir up strife founded on differences of religious belief are not only losing their labor, but are writing themselves down as asses, unfit to lead or direct public opinion. Let us take this little village of Lexington with its 16,000 white people and 14,000 negroes. Every phase of religion and no religion is represented in our heterogeneous population, from the Jew all through the catalogue of Christian denominations and they have their churches and places of worship where they meet and no man disturbs them or makes them afraid. We can very well remember the time when there was more or less enmity between these denominations and little or no social intercourse. They were continually getting up religious debates and indulging in discussions that were as unprofitable as they were embittering. This sort of alienation lasted down to very recent date, but now all is changed. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevail and the freest social intercourse is indulged in. The Protestant and the Roman Catholic, the Jew and the Gentile mingle in business and social life, and often friends hardly know each other's denominational connections for this is a subject that seldom enters into discussion. Like physical diseases they are relegated to physicians, and the less they are discussed the more agreeable a person is, so our people refer their religious doubts and perplexities to their pastors, who are the proper guardians of their consciences in religious matters. We have a state of entente cordiale in religious matters in our community and "damned be the hand and palsied the tongue" that would throw the firebrand of discord in our midst.

Christian Endeavors' Growth.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Society for Christian Endeavor closed Sunday night at Cleveland, O., in a wave of enthusiasm. It was the greatest convention ever held by the society, both in point of numbers and in the interest manifested in its meetings. The total registration reached 40,000, of which 18,790 came from points outside of Ohio. The total registration at the Montreal convention of a year ago was 16,500. The growth of the movement has been as subjoined:

Year.	Members.
1882	481
1883	2,870
1884	8,005
1885	10,961
1886	50,000
1890	666,000
1891	1,000,000
1892	1,500,000
1893	1,650,000
1894	2,000,000

Neat Trick Played on "Cerro Gordo."

At the recent Congressional convention at Campton in the Tenth Congressional district some of the boys played a neat trick on General John S. Williams.

Col. Dan Sublett, of Magoffin, wanted to endorse Cleveland, to which Gen. John S. Williams objected. The committee concluded to leave out this resolution, and went to the convention hall to report.

By some accident Gen. Williams was locked up in the committee room, and, discovering his predicament, called vigorously from the windows for some one to let him out. The man with the key could not be found, and the Jailer had to climb in and with a screwdriver take off the lock before the old hero of Cerro Gordo could regain his freedom. In the meantime Col. Sublett had offered his resolution before the convention, where it passed.

COURIER-JOURNAL: "Archbishop Ireland, of the Catholic Church, takes a thoughtful and sensible view of the recent strike troubles. He declares the resistance to law and order anarchy. The man, he says, who respects not the liberty of others shows himself incapable of his own liberty, and the country that permits riots and mob rule signs its own death warrant. He highly approves the prompt course of President Cleveland. The Archbishop's talk on the subject is a lesson labor might well learn."

VANCEBURG'S LOSS.

The County Seat of Lewis Visited by a Big Fire This Morning.

Seven Buildings Burned—The Loss About $15,000—Not a Cent of Insurance.

Vanceburg was visited by one of the most dangerous fires in its history this morning, and it was only by heroic work that her citizens succeeded in checking the flames.

The place has no fire protection, and the blaze was so threatening at one time that Portsmouth was appealed to for help. The appeal was responded to promptly and the C. and O. was ready to bring down Portsmouth's fire department when word was received that the flames were under control.

The fire was first discovered at 1:20 a.m. in the old Carter House on Front street. The citizens responded promptly to the alarm, but in spite of their efforts the flames spread rapidly, and before they were checked the following buildings were in ashes: The Carter House, a residence belonging to Mrs. Fountain, Plummer Bros', undertaking establishment, L. H. James & Son's livery stable, a residence occupied by Jeff Smith, C. L. Tannian's residence and Deputy Sheriff J. C. Willim's residence. The livery stable and residence occupied by Smith were the property of L. B. Ruggles. The St. Charles Hotel and R. D. Wilson's residence were slightly damaged.

Mr. J. N. Hoobler, of the firm of T. B. Hoobler & Son, from whom most of the information was obtained, places the loss at about $15,000. It falls heavily on the unfortunate parties, as there was not a cent of insurance on any of the property destroyed.

The loss on the Carter House is about $3,000, Mrs. Fountain's less $800, Plummer Bros', $1,000, Mr. Tannian's $1,500.

Mr. Hoobler and Mr. Smith, assisted by a bucket brigade, did heroic work in checking the flames. They fought the fire from a roof of a threatened building where it was so hot that water had to be thrown on them frequently to keep their clothing from igniting.

The origin of the fire is not known.

THE REGULARS WON.

The Cincinnati Team Defeated by a Score of 13 to 11—Maysville Gets Shelbyville's Battery.

The Ohioans of Cincinnati will have to play better ball than they did Monday afternoon before they can hope to defeat the Regulars. Their battery was very good, but their fielding was weak. At the bat they did fairly good work, but were no match for the home boys.

The Regulars, too, didn't play as good a game as they generally put up. Some of the boys lacked their usual vim. They probably sized up the visitors early in the game. Brunner, an all-round player whom the Regulars booked a few days ago, was in the box, and did effective work. McDaniel did better than usual behind the plate.

Wadsworth was in left field, and took care of it well. Rogers did fine work in center and made a pretty double play with McDaniel, shutting out one of the visitors at the home plate. Hill as short stop was right there every time. McDaniel and Cake did the heavy batting for the Regulars, and Rudy, Vogel and Harding for the Ohioans. Following is a summary of the game:

SHORT STOPS.

The Charleston (W. Va.) team has disbanded.

The Ohioans and Regulars cross bats again this afternoon.

Cox did some of his sensational base running in the last inning.

The home players will soon appear in a handsome new uniform.

The Versailles team knocked out Lexington Saturday, for the second time. Score 6 to 3.

The Ashland team will probably be here next Saturday afternoon for a game with the Regulars.

Purnell made one bad play at first but he made up for that by his good work the rest of the game.

The Regulars have secured Stulz and Meredith, the battery of the crack Shelbyville team which disbanded a few days ago. The new men will not be here until next Monday.

The Ohioans have a colored man in their team. He wasn't in Monday's game. They found out, as one of them expressed it, "that they were on the wrong side of the river."

Duke Rudy played left field for the visitors Monday, and took care of it well. At the bat he made the only three-base batter of the day. Duke is a strong hitter, and broke nearly every bat he used.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND ENDORSED

Congress Passes a Resolution to That Effect—House and Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The house, by a vote of 125 to 27, adopted a resolution, offered by Mr. McCreary of Kentucky, endorsing the action of the president and the administration in suppressing lawlessness in connection with the strike. It was adopted under a suspension of the rules, only 30 minutes being allowed for debate. Mr. McCreary and Mr. Catchings made short speeches in support of the resolution, and Mr. Pence and Mr. Bland indulged in some criticism of the action of the administration, but neither was unduly severe.

The remainder of the day was spent in an effort to press the Bailey bankruptcy bill, but, although it was engrossed and read a third time, the quorum failed on the final vote.

At 5:50 p. m. the house adjourned.

The Bailey bill is purely a voluntary bankruptcy measure. It is limited in its operation to two years. Under it property is administered according to state laws, thus creating no officers or new machinery for its execution.

The bill provides that if any debtor owing $200 or more shall execute an assignment valid according to the laws of the state in which he resides, and as to his property situated elsewhere, valid according to the law of the place where it is located and also in accordance with its own requirements, he shall be discharged from his debts.

The only requirements which the bill itself exacts are that the assignment shall include all of the debtor's property not exempt and shall be for the equal benefit of all his creditors without preference, except for debts due for labor and to the state and general government. It exempts such property as may be exempt from forced sales under the law of the debtor's domicile.

It further provides that four months after the debtor has executed his assignment he may file his petition in the federal court, alleging under oath a full compliance with the law and praying to be discharged from further liability of his debts. His creditors are cited to appear, and they have a reasonable time in which to file their answer and to contest the debtor's right to a judgment. If upon the trial it should appear that the debtor has given any preference by assignment or otherwise, or that he has done anything to prevent a fair and equal division of his property pro rata among his creditors, or that he has attempted to defraud his creditors, then the court must refuse to discharge him.

The bill further provides that if an attachment has been levied that debtor can still execute an assignment which shall vacate the attachment, and he will then be entitled to the benefit of the law. If the attachment is conclusive and the debtor permits it to stand he deprives himself of a release and his creditors still have their action in all the courts to set aside the attachment on the ground of fraud.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Two more appropriation bills—the legislative, executive and judicial and the District of Columbia—were disposed of by the senate yesterday. The agricultural appropriation bill was also considered, and was on the point of being passed, but there were several individual amendments left to be considered. This leaves but three more appropriation bills to be considered: The Indian, sundry civil and deficiency, and of these only the first has come from the committee.

The anti-option bill, which has been on the vice president's table since it came from the several house weeks ago, was referred to the committee on agriculture and forestry.

The conference report on the military appropriation bill was agreed to.

GOOD AND BAD TASTE.

Judie Chollet Defines Tastes and Describes a Gown In Gold and Blue.

What constitutes the difference between good and bad taste? Good taste may be fairly defined as an intuitive perception of the fitness of things, but it is impossible to lay down rigid rules of color and form by following which the effect of good taste may be secured. In the matter of dress, for instance, what is in good taste at one time or on one person may be excellent taste elsewhere. After a few broad laws of universal application have been observed there remain a host of minor considerations which must be settled by each individual according to her particular requirements. Certain persons maintain that only dark and dull colors should be worn in the street, because they are neat and unaggressive. Others insist that brighter tints are equally appropriate and give an effect of life and cheerfulness, besides being more becoming. One authority declares that short walking skirts are ungraceful, unfeminine and immodest, and only a woman who is unduly anxious to display her feet will wear them; another avows that only a vulgar will strip off and draw on in public gloves long enough to suggest hosiery. It is at one time announced that nobody ought to wear black, as it adds 10 years to the apparent age. Soon after appears a recommendation of black gowns as being universally becoming and invariably in good taste. All these differing opinions may be both right and wrong as circumstances alter cases in every affair of life, and an ordinarily clever woman needs only to exercise her gift of tact in order to be an authority unto herself, wiser than any outside one that she can consult.

Whether brilliant colors are in good taste or not, they are fashionable at present. An illustration is given of a costume composed of blue and gold taffeta. It has a draped tunic of blue liberty satin trimmed with guipure. The balloon sleeves are of taffeta, and the bows are of gold colored satin.

JUDIE CHOLLET.

Gleaming Revolver Pointed at Her.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 17.—Three burglars visited the residence of Mrs. Buck, an aged lady near Hubbard, one holding a revolver at her head, another suppressing her screams, while the third went through her clothing, securing $80.

A nice, sleeping with her, was not awakened. The police here arrested three men, one being a relative of Mrs. Buck, on suspicion.

Precacher's Sudden Departure.

GOSHEN, Ind., July 17.—Rev. Menno Metzler, an aged Mennonite minister, living in Harrison township, has fled to southern Missouri with wife and chattels. He has been engaged in a bitter lawsuit with Urah Kehr, and became involved in neighborhood quarrels. It is supposed the filing of a new suit by Kehr for malicious trespass precipitated the minister's speedy departure.

Only Got Four Years.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Walter Guy Burnard, the young confidence sharp, who has caused much trouble for the police of Chicago, Boston and other eastern cities, and who was arrested in Los Angeles several months ago for complicity in the robbery of Simon Jacobson, a San Francisco pawnbroker, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for four years. The burglar stole a trunk containing $11,000 worth of jewels from the Jacobson residence.

For the Farmer.

In the four months ending July 1, Chicago packers have slaughtered 1,560,000 hogs, an increase over the corresponding time last year of 450,000 head.

The Record says Garrard will have 1,200 acres in hemp this year. It also reports the wheat crop good in quality and above the average in yield.

Lancaster Record: "James and Chas. Spillman, last week threshed their immense crop of grain, consisting of 3,700 bushels of wheat and 500 of barley. Last year, when the market price of wheat was only sixty-five cents, they realized ninety cents per bushel by soaking and feeding it to hogs. They will dispose of a large quantity of this year's crop the same way."
